President's Message

I've got my hand on the throttle and I'm ready to spool up the engines and kick in the afterburner for takeoff as the new/repeat CFC president.

I anticipate a good flight and enhanced membership involvement. I know that is what the All - Pro Board Members desire. Together, we can make it happen. I'm all in. Please join us.

The USO is open at OIA. I took a peek. It's a class operation. Check it out. Maybe you'd like to help run it? Come to the Feb. luncheon and hear first hand what you can contribute.

A $6,000,000.00 Fisher House is scheduled to open Nov. 2017 on the VA Hospital property at Lake Nona. It's a **** facility that provides residence, meals and recreation for service members who receive care at the VA. Accompanying family members can also stay. There is no cost to the service member/family. We are fortunate to get such fine facility.

Next month, I will report to you about the MOAA FL Chapter's Leadership Conference. It was in Orlando. The new MOAA President was the guest speaker at the dinner. I'm airborne and in smooth air as I gain altitude toward our rendezvous mission coordinates.

Enjoy the flight and safe journey!

One of our Chapter's major Community activities is the ROTC/JROTC MOAA Awards program. A related program is the Cadet of the Year program. These two programs involve 33 local area high schools JROTC and two ROTC units at the University of Central Florida.

The importance of these programs cannot be over emphasized. the discipline, teamwork and respect for authority which they learn as Cadets will make them better citizens.

The medals, certificates and cash awards represent an “investment” by the Chapter of over $10,200.

In addition, the Community Service Program provides funds to a number of charitable organizations.

We would appreciate any contribution you might consider for these programs

Chapter Board Meeting

January 14, 2017

Call to Order: President LePage called the meeting to order at 10:00 hours. CW4 Sauer began with a morning prayer and led the Pledge of Allegiance.

Quorum: There were 12 Attendees; CW4 Sauer, Mrs. Green, LTC Le Page, LTC Johnson, LTC Patterson, LTC Gillett, COL Jung, COL Hakola, CAPT Rosen, Lt Col Hines, COL Gates and 1LT Cutler.

Secretary's Report: Since there was no December Board Meeting and no pressing correspondence, Mrs. Green did not have a report.

Treasurer's Report: CW4 Sauer gave his report and it was approved by the Board. He will break out the two categories of JROTC and Community Services for Board review.

COMMITTEE REPORTS

Recruitment: The data base from MOAA National is expected in April. LTC Patterson will begin the letter campaign then.

Scholarship Recipient Selection: LTC Gillett has contacted schools, is assembling the Interview Committee, and has scheduled the March 11, 25, and April 1 for the interviews. To accommodate this schedule, the Board Meeting be held on March 4.

Awards: COL Jung reminded the Board that MOAA National will no longer pay for medal and awards presented to ROTC and JROTC. The cost for continuing the items that we have presented in the past will be over $900. A motion to authorize the expense of up to $1000 for these awards and certificates from the Treasury was passed.

Nominations: CAPT Rosen brought to our attention that the slate of new Directors as published in the Focus had an error. Instead of Mrs. Green as Director for 2017-2018, it should read 1LT Cutler.

OLD BUSINESS:

In reviewing the website, it was reported that errors existed and that minutes and newsletters were not archived as they had in the past. COL Gates will contact the webmaster to correct and include this and other information.

NEW BUSINESS:

LTC Patterson suggested that we have a Facebook entry. A discussion followed and 1LTCutler will review various MOAA chapter Facebook pages and make a recommendation at the next Board meeting. COL Gates reminded us that there will be a MOAA Symposium on January 27-28, 2017.

Chaplain's Message

Last year I settled on a theme of Amonths,@ and in this column I offered some information about each month for the topic. That was convenient for 2016, as it gave me an automatic topic for each writing. When it was time to write an article for the March Focus, for example, I knew to write about the month of March.

Well, all twelve months have come and gone in 2016, so now I ponder anew what topics to consider for 2017. I did a sequel for January, noting that four months end in Aber@ because that was the word for month in Latin. Now it=s time to shift gears, and it occurred to me that perhaps some of you who read this column (thank you very much!) might have a topic you=d want me to cover.

If you do, please let me know, and I=ll do my best to deal with it. Being a theologian, theology is my specialty, but I=d like to think I know a little about a few other subjects as well. I taught world history at the college level, so I think I=ve got a little knowledge about world events, both past and present. Like all of us, I spent extensive time in uniform (25 years), and that quarter of a century exposed me to a lot of things, some very good, and some horribly bad.

I was fortunate enough to spend five years at the highest level of the Army as aide to the top commander in Vietnam (General Westmoreland) and Army Chief of Staff. In that capacity I had the honor of meeting presidents and even staying for a few days in the White House during the Johnson administration.

If any of the above gives you cause to ask about something, please do so, and I=ll endeavor to discuss that topic in a subsequent column. You can write me at dicksauer@aol.com or PO Box 720185; Orlando 32872-0185. Phone is 407 382-4242.

For now, though, I hope you enjoy our shortest monthBit=s a great one to spend in Florida and not up northBbrrrrrrr!

In His love,

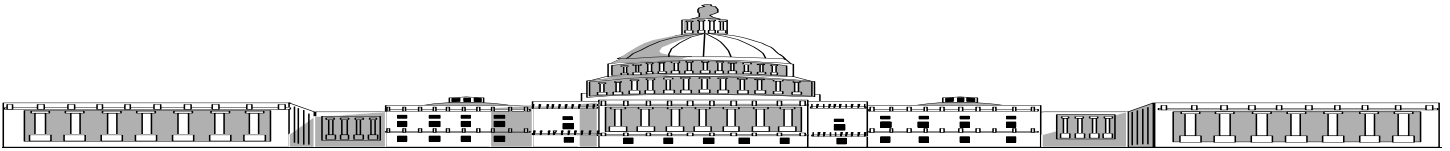

Chaplain Dick

Mrs. Evelyn M. Purdy, AUX., Passed away recently.

LEGISLATIVE INFORMATION BY LTC Michael Gillett, USA, RET.

AVALANCHE OF ENACTED TRICARE CHANGES POSES CHALLENGES: The National Defense Authorization Act (P.L. 114-328), signed into law Dec. 23, orders an avalanche of changes to the TRICARE health care benefit used by servicemembers, retirees, and their families. It also makes sweeping reforms to how the military direct-care system is organized and operates. The provisions to modernize TRICARE and improve access will only accelerate reforms that the department already has been piloting or planning to adopt, though perhaps not at the speed Congress desired. The department's guide has been recommendations of the 2014 Military Healthcare System Review, which then-Defense Secretary Chuck Hagel ordered to take a hard look at performance and outcomes at military facilities and through civilian purchased care networks. Beneficiaries have started to see the fruits of that effort in greater access to care and a nurse advice line. They will see more when the new generation of TRICARE purchased care contracts takes effect this year, and also with gradual rollout of MHS Genesis, the new electronic health records system. All this before many of the new defense bill initiatives kick in in 2018 and years beyond.

Congress staggered deadlines in the law across a span of years. There are gems in the law for families seeking more timely care.

One provision ends a requirement that TRICARE Prime users get referrals from primary care providers before using a neighborhood urgent care facility. Another provision mandates that military treatment facilities with urgent care clinics keep them open daily until at least 11 p.m. Those “are both wins for families,” said Brooke Goldberg, deputy director of government relations for family issues at Military Officers Association of America. Other law highlights she noted require:

Adoption of a standardized appointment scheduling system across all of military health care and also first-call resolution of appointments. New TRICARE contracts incentives to improve beneficiary access, care outcomes, and enhanced beneficiary experiences.

Adoption of new productivity standards for care providers in military treatment facilities, which should mean more on-base appointments. Military providers' performance reports to include measures of accountability for patient access, quality of care, outcomes, and safety.

Military families will be eligible by 2018 to buy vision coverage through federal employee health programs, explained Karen Ruedi-seuli, government relations deputy director for National Military Family Association. Retirees and dependents will be eligible for both dental and vision programs.

Some changes touted by Congress are not quite what they seem. For example, the planned narrowing of three insurance options - TRICARE Prime, Standard, and Extra - down to two, with Prime still providing managed care and TRICARE “Select” offering a preferred provider network, is largely a name change push by DoD. Goldberg said it could even be “transparent to families who really don't know the nuances of Standard vs. Extra.”

Still to be determined “is what the preferred-provider network will look like and will families be able to easily discern which services will result in higher costs? And will they have access to providers who are low-cost?” For example, current TRICARE provider networks include those who participate in Prime and agree to take a discount from the normal Medicare-based payment. But many providers willing to see Standard patients for its allowable fee will not see Prime patients with its lower fee. “Will those providers be considered preferred providers under TRICARE Select, or will the Select network only include those who participate as part of the Prime network? If the former is true, then the transition likely will be smooth. If the latter is true, many more people could be hit with out-of-network charges, to the extent they aren't grandfathered,” said Goldberg.

Adding some confusion is language that grandfathers current generations of military families and retirees from a new schedule of higher fees to hit those who enter service on or after Jan. 1, 2018. But the law will require current beneficiaries to enroll in Select, as they do with Prime, and enrollment will carry a fee for retirees under age 65, beginning in 2020, if a government audit confirms improvements in quality care and patient access.

Our membership could individually contribute matching funds for this cause. More information later. The USO is open at the Orlando International Airport on Level 1, Terminal A. The USO representative is our Speaker next month. CW4 Sauer moved that we present a check for $250 to him at the February luncheon. Motion passed.

HELP YOUR SURVIVORS NOW

If you have a family, one of the most important things you can do during your lifetime is laying out the plans to take care of your family after you die. Upon your death, your survivors can expect to receive certain payments and benefits from the federal government, but it's up to you to help your survivors.

MOAA has several publications, listed below, which will give you an excellent start in this process. You can request these documents by e-mail: www.moaa.org or by calling 1-800-234-6622.

The Citrus Club is a private club with limited membership. Prospective members must be invited to join and be sponsored by a current member.

There are many levels of membership from Young Executive to Platinum and Signature Gold Unlimited. Each membership level has different benefits and a different monthly fee. The club has recently completed a $4 million dollar renovation.

The club encompasses the entire 18th floor of the building at the corner of Orange and Jackson Street in downtown Orlando. This club was designed for professionals, like yourselves, in mind. I would be happy to sponsor you into the Citrus Club.

THE NAVY EXCHANGE SAVES YOU MONEY

Navy Exchange prices are an average of 15.8% below the competition. This savings is determined by "Market Basket" surveys. The Navy Exchange Service Command hired an independent consulting firm to conduct price surveys three times per year. Prices are compared on 350 exchange items, in eight geographic areas throughout the United States with such retailers as Wal-Mart, Target, Circuit City, and Sears. The results showed that customers save an average of 15.8% (excluding sales tax savings). In the State of Florida, the total savings would be 21.8% which includes the 15.8% average plus the 6% sales tax. At Navy Exchange Orlando, the savings can be significantly more when grocery food items are included because the Orlando Food Store prices food items similar to a military commissary.

Another way the Navy Exchange helps the customer save money everyday is through its' Price Matching Policy. We will match the price of any identical item, sold in a local store - same brand, manufacturer, size, and model number. Simply bring in a current, local competitor's ad for the identical item and we will match the price. Price differences greater than $50 require a supervisors approval. Exceptions include concession-run operations, commissary prices, fine jewelry items, special orders, gasoline, automotive parts and labor/service charges, going-out-of business sales, flea markets, clearances, and percent and dollar off specials, internet sites, etc.
